What is EA?

An Enrolled Agent (EA™) is a tax professional authorized by the United States federal government to represent taxpayers before the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). EAs specialize exclusively in taxation and have a unique expertise in tax law, which allows them to provide tax-related services to individuals and businesses. EAs are authorized to represent taxpayers in all matters before the IRS, including audits, collections, and appeals. They work with individuals, small businesses, corporations, partnerships, estates, and trusts, and are bound by ethical standards that require them to maintain their license through continuing education.

Who is EA For?

The EA credential is ideal for individuals with a strong interest in tax and tax law and who want to develop a career in IRS representation, tax consulting, tax return preparation, as well as other tax-related services.

EA Exam Eligibility and Format

To become an EA, candidates are required to obtain a Preparer Tax Identification Number (PTIN) from the IRS. One unique aspect of becoming an EA is that there are no specific education or experience requirements. Candidates must pass the SEE (Special Enrollment Examination), also known as the EA exam. The EA exam is made up of three parts, each consisting of 100 multiple-choice questions in a 3.5-hour testing time.
